

APPENDIX A

Reference

---

- Password Restrictions, page A-1

Password Restrictions

| Password Type                                                                                                                                        | Restrictions                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Password that is used to log in to Cisco Unified MeetingPlace Express through the Web. This password is associated with your username. | <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Can contain up to 17 numbers and letters.</li><li>• Is case-sensitive.</li><li>• Cannot be blank.</li><li>• Must be the minimum length set by your system administrator. By default, the minimum length is five characters.</li></ul> |

| Password Type                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Restrictions                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Password that is used to log in to Cisco Unified MeetingPlace Express through a telephone or by using Cisco Unified MeetingPlace Express Phone View on your Cisco Unified IP Phone This password is associated with your phone profile number and is also referred to as your PIN. | <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Can contain only numbers.</li><li>• Cannot be more than 17 characters long.</li><li>• Cannot be blank.</li><li>• Must be the minimum length set by your system administrator. By default, the minimum password length is five characters.</li></ul> |
| Meeting password. This password is specified by the meeting scheduler when scheduling the meeting.                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Can include letters or numbers or both.</li></ul>                                                                                                                                                                                                   |

Related Topics

- Changing Both Your Web and Phone Passwords, page 15-2
- Changing Your Phone Password, page 15-3
- How to Schedule a Meeting, page 2-6